When installing Berkeley DB on filesystems shared by machines of different architectures, please note that although Berkeley DB include files are installed based on the value of $(prefix), rather than $(exec_prefix), the Berkeley DB include files are not always architecture independent. To move the entire installation tree to somewhere besides /usr/local, change the value of prefix.

Berkeley DB (Version: 18.1) - Oracle

Berkeley DB (BDB) is a software library intended to provide a high-performance embedded database for key/value data. Berkeley DB is written in C with API bindings for C++, C#, Java, Perl, PHP, Python, Ruby, Smalltalk, Tcl, and many other programming languages. BDB stores arbitrary key/data pairs as byte arrays, and supports multiple data items for a single key.
